NO REAL ACCOUNT BEHIND THE PAPER

Lifted By Notes to Bank, Says
President Thompson

Sensational Statement Made in Regard to Affairs of Rehkopf Concern.

DETAILS OF THE TRANSACTION.

George C. Thompson, president of the American-German National bank, spring another sensation in the E. Rehkopf Saddle company bankruptcy case by declaring in a deposition that he learned just before the assignment of the E. Rehkopf Saddle company, that alleged accounts and drafts against customers of the E. Rehkopf Saddle company, which were taken up by certain notes of the officers of that concern, did not represent goods sold at all.

The deposition of Mr. Thompson was taken in connection with the objections of several creditors to three notes of B. M. Philley, to E. P. Rehkopf, and endorsed by E. Rehkopf and the E. Rehkopf Saddle company, per B. M. Philley, secretary, to the bank for $15,584.86. The bank claims these notes were renewals of previous notes deposited with the bank to cover any overchecks of the corporation or bad drafts and accounts of the customers of the saddle company in the future.

According to Mr. Thompson these notes were made absolute property of the bank shortly before the assignment of the concern to cover an overcheck of $1,500 and $14,900 in worthless papers.

Mr. Thompson said he thought the notes and drafts of the concern were all good up to the time of the assignment.

On examination he was asked by J. C. Mounroy "Mr. Thompson, I will ask you to explain to the referee what sort of accounts with drafts attached, the notes that you have been asked about, guaranteed; what sort they took up or became responsible for?"

Mr. Thompson—"They were put there to secure drafts that they would make against their customers for goods they claimed they shipped to customers, which accounts, covering the same, were assigned to us."

Mounroy—"Did any of the purported accounts and drafts, which these notes were given to take up, actually represent any goods shipped to any customers of the E. Rehkopf Saddle company?"

Thompson—"Nearly all these drafts that were taken up by these three notes represented sums for which no goods had been shipped. A few of them represented sums where drafts were drawn for more than the goods shipped amounted to. I think probably one-half dozen out of a hundred were in the shape described."

Referee—"Do you mean to say that the items stated in the accounts were not actual items of goods shipped?"

Thompson—"I mean to say they did not ship the man any goods at all."

Mounroy—"I will ask you to tell the court how it is that you know these accounts were false and fraudulent?"

Thompson—"The first knowledge I received was from E. Rehkopf himself about two or three days before assignment. The second knowledge I received of it was from Mr. Philley on the next morning."

Referee—"Did not John G. Rehkopf, the vice-president, bring you an itemized statement and tell you it contained an itemized statement of those that were false and fraudulent?"

Thompson—"In his conversation with others he called them 'swaggles.' In his statement with me he called them overdrifts."

Referee—"I will ask you if the Rehkopfs, both of them, did not request you to take up those fraudulent papers with these $15,000 collateral?"

Thompson—"Yes."

In answer to a question of the referee Mr. Thompson said: "We were talking over his affairs (meaning E. Rehkopf's) and I said, 'I understand that there won't be $2,000 of our commercial papers bad.'"

"His answer was, 'Stop a minute. Your commercial papers are not as good as you think they are.'"

"I says, 'What is the matter with them?'"

"He says, 'Well, they are not papers at all. There is nothing to them.' "I promptly answered, 'If that is the business you have engaged in, I have nothing more to say,' and I left and went across the street to the bank ring up his secretary and said to him, 'Come to my house tonight at 8 o'clock.'"

"He says, 'What do you want?' "I says, 'That is nothing to you. You come, and if you don't come I will make it interesting for you.'"

"He says, 'I will be there.' "He came according to appointment and I took him into my dining room. I used every art and every talent I had on earth to draw out of him a confirmation of Mr. Rehkopf's disclosures, and he refused absolutely to confirm it. Finally he said, 'Just let me alone until morning and I will have something to say. I will have nothing to say until then,' indicating clearly that Rehkopf had never made the disclosures to him."

"The next morning he came over to the bank and made a full confession."

Mr. Thompson said the bank did not forward these drafts and accounts for collection, but at the request of the firm held them for the E. Rehkopf Saddle company, which collected the money."

The testimony of B. M. Philley is along the same lines.

BRAVE ENGINEER

STICKS TO HIS POST WHILE THE STEAM SCALDS HIM.

A Hunter Saves String of Box Cars
From Destruction in Local L. C.
Yards.

Standing at his post with a steady stream of scalding steam burning his left side and face, Engineer F. A. Hunter, of switch engine No. 278, yesterday afternoon stopped this engine and saved a string of loaded box cars from destruction.

Hunter was "making up" and was preparing to kick a car into a siding. He was running his engine pretty fast when the "stud" blew out. The stud is a bolt connecting the cab with the boiler head, and when it blew out a stream of steam struck the engineer in the face and left side.

Although suffering agony from the severe burning, Hunter shut off the steam, applied the air and saw his engine stopped before he left the cab. He is unable to be on duty today and will be disabled for some time to come.

MODERN JOURNAL.

Famous Old London Times Is Reorganized.

London, Dec. 6.—The chancery court today granted an order allowing the reorganization of the London Times as a joint stock company. This marks a notable departure in the methods of the famous English journal. For the past century successive managers have exerted absolute control over the Times, but the various owners now desire to form a company to take over the general control.

Their application to the court set forth that the reorganization had special reference to the development of modern journalism. The order was granted by mutual consent, all the proprietors agreeing.

$25,000,000 INCREASE.

Will Be Given 45,000 Employees of Chicago Railroads.

Chicago Dec. 6.—The Tribune today says: The railways of Chicago contemplate making increases in the wages of their employees in the immediate future, which, in the aggregate, will make all increases made on the railroads of the country in the recent past seem small by comparison. Advances are expected to be given between now and January 1, which will make the combined incomes of the 450,000 employees of these lines from $25,000,000 to $50,000,000 greater in 1907 than in 1906.

Prolonged Earthquake.

Kingstown, Island of St. Vincent, B. W. I., Dec. 6.—A prolonged earthquake shock was felt here last night. It lasted fully 80 seconds. The vibrations were slow. The people of Kingstown were thrown into a panic. No other shock felt here has lasted so long.

The Island of Barbados, about 100 miles to the east, and the Island of St. Lucia, about 25 miles to the northwest, also felt the shock.

COLD WAVE ON WAY TOWARD PADUCAH

Temperature To Drop 40 Degrees In 24 Hours

Summer Weather and Summer Rain
Yesterday, But It Is Growing
Colder Today.

SUDDEN CHANGE IN WEATHER

From summer to winter is a quick transition in Paducah sometimes. Yesterday with summer fairness everywhere, the mercury arose to 70 and last night a regular summer rain flooded the streets. By tomorrow night we are promised 20 degrees, a drop of 50 degrees in about 48 hours.

Wouldn't that make you shiver? Yesterday was one of the most beautiful days of the year, and people read with astonishment that fellow beings were freezing to death in Massachusetts.

Last night water fell in floods, and a wire broke of the Paducah Light and Power company. About 9 o'clock every house and business place using incandescents was in darkness, until after midnight.

This morning it cleared up somewhat, but the air grew chilly, and there has been a perceptible lowering of the temperature all through the day. It will be cold tomorrow.

Storm Signals Up.

Norfolk, Dec. 6.—A severe Atlantic coast storm is blowing this afternoon. Storm signals were ordered from Jacksonville to the Delaware breakwater. All shipping is warned of danger at sea in the next 48 hours.

Local Option Election.

Somerset, Ky., Dec. 6.—There is a local option election here today. Thousands of women and children with banners are parading the streets. No such enthusiasm was ever manifested in temperance cause here before. The court house and church bells are ringing all over the city.

FLED

FROM WOULD-BE ASSAILANT IN HOTEL AT FULTON.

Well Known Merchant of That City
Is Charged With Most Serious Offense.

Fulton, Ky., Dec. 6.—Miss Nina Milner, residing near here, had a warrant issued for Rias Dacus, a Fulton merchant, charging him with attempted criminal assault. She had just returned from the west and stopped at the L'omnia hotel, she claims. She fled from her room and down the stairs to escape Dacus. He held pursuers at bay and escaped to Pierce Tenn. Miss Milner is an invalid and her relatives are prominent.

STOLE STREET CAR.

Thief Takes Conductor's Place and Fools Motorman.

East Liverpool, O., Dec. 6.—The police are looking for a stranger who stole a street car last night and ran it four miles, collected fare from the passengers and escaped. The conductor was at a pump getting a drink when the thief stepped aboard and gave the starting signal. The thief managed the business so well the motorman did not suspect anything wrong.

Husband of Charlotte Bronte.

The Rev. Arthur C. Bell Nicholls, aged 90, died at Banagher, Ireland. He was the husband of Charlotte Bronte, the famous English novelist.

There is only one kind of a newspaper circulation statement that is worth any consideration and that is the daily detailed statement. The Sun is the only Paducah paper printing such a statement.

HARLAN REFUSES.

Washington, Dec. 6.—When asked for an expression apropos of the discussion of his possible candidacy next year for the governorship of Kentucky, Justice Harlan, of the supreme court of the United States, promptly answered that "he had no such thought, nor any purpose to in any form engage in political contests at any time or in any way."

GILLETTE CONFESSES.

Berkshire, N. Y., Dec. 6.—Chester Gillette, facing death for murdering Grace Brown, has confessed to his attorneys that he killed the girl. The condemned man attempted at first to deceive his attorneys, but his confession was made known today. Gillette is being guarded night and day for fear he will commit suicide.

CERTIFICATE OF STOCK FOR MONEY

Looked Like A Sure Enough
Greenback

James Whitte, Arrested for Being Drunk, but Police Are Investigating Case.

MAN FROM NASHVILLE IN HAD

Did James Whitte, of Nashville, try to deceive people into believing a certificate of stock was a $5 bill, or was he deceived thereby himself?

This question is puzzling the police and they are exerting every effort to learn just where Whitte stands. As it is merely a drunk and disorderly warrant stands against him.

This morning at 7 o'clock Whitte appeared at the Bowlin restaurant, 121 Kentucky avenue, secured breakfast and paid for it. At noon he returned intoxicated and ate dinner. When he started out Mrs. Bowlin stopped him. He had not paid and first refused, showing the lady aside. "I have got a bill," he stated, producing a well worn greenback piece of paper resembling a bill. He refused to surrender it, stating that he would get it changed and return.

Policemen Cross and Johnson interfered at this juncture and took Whitte to the police station. He threw the bill away on route but James Vozler saw it and captured it as the paper fluttered to the ground at his feet.

At the station house a warrant, charging him with being drunk and disorderly, was issued. The counterfeit bill proposition is being investigated.

The paper is simply one resembling a $5 bank note so strongly that only the minutest scrutiny will show the difference. It is a certificate for $5 in stock showing this amount due the Selma, Marion & Memphis railroad from Shelby county, Tenn.

Persons appeared at the hall and claimed Whitte tried to pass the paper as a bill.

Whitte claims Nashville his home. He came here from Memphis.

MRS. BARCOCK RALLIES WELL.

Wife of Congressman From Wisconsin Rests Well After Operation.

Washington, Dec. 6.—Mrs. Babcock, the wife of Representative J. W. Babcock of Wisconsin, who underwent a serious surgical operation yesterday, rested well last night and her condition today is reported to be as good as could be expected.

DRAINAGE CONGRESS.

Irrigation Problems Considered at Oklahoma City.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Dec. 6.—The national drainage congress began a three days' session here today. Many irrigation and drainage experts from various parts of the country were present. Today's program included several papers and addresses.

Increase Army 50 Per Cent.

London, Dec. 6.—Tokio correspondent of the Times telegraphs that new army schemes signifies an increase of nearly 50 per cent and that Japan under the program will be able to immediately place 750,000 men in the field. Three special forces are to organize, namely, heavy artillery, quick firing field artillery and cavalry.

ELKS' DEDICATE NEW HOME TODAY

Services In The Lodge, Room
This Afternoon

New Clock, Indicating Eleven O'clock
Toast, Set in Position in the Front.

A SOCIAL SESSION TONIGHT.

Everything is in readiness for the dedication of the Elks' Home today even to the finishing touch to the building, the installation of the clock. The clock was placed yesterday afternoon late in the front of the building and is clearly visible at night, a brilliant light being set behind it. The clock is not a servicable one, being merely one of the emblems of the Elks' lodge, the hands set at 11 o'clock.

Last night the committee on arrangements held a final meeting and definitely arranged for the dedication ceremonies and the social features. The ceremonies will begin at 4 o'clock this afternoon and last until 6 o'clock or possibly later.

Following this a social session will be held. There will be visitors here from many cities, a big delegation coming up from Cairo. The services will probably tax the capacity of the Elks' Home.

The Building.

The cornerstone of the new Elks' Home was laid January 1, 1905. The lodge has occupied the complete building for several months and the dedication today will find the building handsomely furnished and equipped. Invitations were sent to many out-of-town lodges to attend the dedication today. Visiting Elks began to arrive early this morning and a large attendance is expected. On the streets today could be seen badges in the lodge colors.

Six o'clock dinner at the Belvedere hotel for twenty of the officers of the lodge may be a feature of the day's program. The social session will begin at 8:30 o'clock. There will be speeches by the members of the lodge and a most enjoyable "among ourselves" is anticipated.

SUPERVISORS

OF TAX BOOKS APPOINTED BY COUNTY JUDGE LIGHTFOOT.

Eight Men Chosen to Hear Complaints
About Assessments of Property in County.

County Judge R. T. Lightfoot this morning announced his appointment of the board of county tax book supervisors, who will go over the books of the county assessor, beginning the first Monday in January. The session is likely to last several weeks. The appointments follow:

Alexander Williams, Jesse Childers, James Harp, Oscar Rollinson, George Knott, G. R. Davis, A. W. Greif, W. A. Baker, the latter three being residents of the city.

PIGS AND HEN, GARBAGE PLANT

Contractor's "Reduction Works"
May Be Forced on Grand Rapids.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Dec. 6.—The city fathers are facing the problem of determining just how 1,000 hogs and several times as many roosters and hens can be figured as an asset in the capacity of a municipal garbage reduction plant. Alva W. Adams, who was awarded the contract for the disposal of the city's garbage, has announced the completion of his "works." The contract specified that the plant was to be erected by him, which part he filled by the purchase of the hogs and chickens. The contract runs for three years, and at the end of that time the "works" and decidedly colder tonight and Friday. Temperature will fall 30 or 40 degrees by Friday night. The highest temperature reached yesterday was 70 and the lowest today was 50.

may revert to the city if the contract is not properly fulfilled. Hence the perturbation in official circles.

President Commutes Sentence.

Washington, Dec. 6.—The president has commuted to life imprisonment the sentence of death imposed upon Arthur Adams and Robert Sawyer, negro members of the crew of the schooner Henry A. Berwind, who were convicted of mutiny and murder aboard that vessel about a year ago. The men were tried at Wilmington, N. C., and are now in jail at that place. Another member of the crew who was convicted on the charge already has been executed.

Six Year Term for President.

Chicago, Dec. 6.—The National Business League today adopted and forwarded to Senator Shelby M. Culom and Representative F. O. Lowden, of this state, for introduction in the senate and house, a resolution fixing the presidential term at six years.

A Mighty Nimrod.

Will Theobald, the well known wood worker employed in the local I. C. shops, is the coming hunter of the shops. He bagged 173 rabbits, 50 birds, three opossums and five squirrels.

VITRIOL

THROWN INTO YOUNG LAD'S
FACE BY UNKNOWN PERSON.

Hermann Greif's Eye Injured and His Face Terribly Burned
by the Fluid.

Suffering from burns of the severest nature, Hermann Greif, 12 years old, son of George W. Greif, vice-president of the Lack Singletree company, of 705 South Fourth street, lies at his home in agony. He is the victim of youthful vitriol throwers, the first to make their appearance in Paducah in years, and the police are working diligently to learn the identity of the boys who nearly caused the youngster to lose his eyesight.

This morning at 11:10 o'clock Hermann Greif was sitting in the wood shed cutting kindling. He had his back to the alley when suddenly he heard voices. Almost at the instant he felt a hot fluid strike his head. The fluid burned severely and ran from the top of the head all over the face, some of it entering his left eye. It was thrown through an open window.

With cries of agony the boy fled to the house, Dr. W. C. Tuhanks, who was summoned, saw instantly that he was suffering from vitriol burns. The burns were dressed and the boy made as comfortable as possible. The eyesight is not permanently affected. Policemen were summoned. They could secure little in the way of a clue from the boy as he heard only laughs.

SEVERAL MAY BE DEAD.

Had Factory Fire in Lynn, Mass., This Morning.

Lynn, Mass., Dec. 6.—It is feared several persons were killed and many injured in a boiler explosion and fire in the Harney shoe factory. The explosion occurred while the employees were going to work. The building caught fire and it spread rapidly. The chief of the fire department says there are no fatalities, but eyewitnesses declare several bodies are among the flames. Sixteen were injured. Six buildings and several small dwellings were destroyed. The loss is estimated at $200,000.

OLD COUPLE ELOPES.

Walked Across the Mountains to Escape Pursuing Relatives.

Lexington, Ky., Dec. 6.—Ballard Gale and Mrs. Nancy Jane Wiseman, of Cumberland Gap, Tenn., eloped to Winchester, near here, and were married today. Each is aged 53 years, and this is the second marriage for each. They walked several miles across the mountains to catch a train and escape pursuing relatives. It is the oldest eloping couple ever married in Kentucky. Each has several children.

Finley Succeeds Spencer.

New York, Dec. 6.—W. W. Finley was today elected president of the Southern Railway company, succeeding the late Samuel Spencer. Mr. Finley has been second vice president of the company.

BOUND BY THIEF IN HER OWN HOME

Mrs. Ernest Beasley Unconscious Two Hours

Negro Learned Husband's Knock and Gained Admittance to South Side
Home.

TOOK MONEY AND WENT AWAY.

Responding to a knock on the door last night, supposing it to be that of her husband, Mrs. Ernest C. Beasley, of 320 Third and Elizabeth street, wife of a well known south side barber was confronted by a negro.

Without waiting for the door to be opened the negro pushed his way and seized Mrs. Beasley by the throat. "Where is your money?" he demanded. The frightened woman declared she had none, but he persisted in choking her, until she showed him where she kept her purse, containing $3.80.

As he turned to go she struck him in the face, and he exclaimed: "Well, I'll be damned!"

Then he grew rough in his treatment toward her, and threw her on the floor. He bound her hands with a stocking, belonging to one of her children, and stuffed a copy of the Paducah Sun in her mouth to silence any outcry.

With a parting kick at the prostrate woman's ankle, the brute went out the door.

Mrs. Beasley swooned and knew no more for two hours. Her husband came home a little after 8 o'clock and found her unconscious bound and gagged. He summoned Dr. J. S. Troutman, who succeeded in reviving Mrs. Beasley.

Mrs. Beasley recognized the negro as one that had been prowling around the house for several days. He appeared to be plotting something and she had told her husband of him. She was frightened.

Mr. and Mrs. Beasley had arranged a code of signals, by which the wife was to know when her husband came home. He would tap drum on the glass of the front door with his finger nails. This is what the negro did, and they think he learned the code.

Mrs. Beasley is the wife of Ernest C. Beasley who is employed at the Jersey Palace barber shop on Broad street. He lives a few doors from the No. 2 fire station, and generally goes home immediately after the closing of the shop at 8 o'clock. It was just before this hour when his wife was sitting reading at her home. The night being bad she naturally expected Mr. Beasley home early and was not surprised to hear a gentle knock.

The police have a good description of the negro. He is small, heavy set and very dark. They are searching all over the city for him and think he is still here. The stationmen at No. 2 fire station were not disturbed.

CHILD LABOR BILL.

Lodge Wants to Exclude From Commerce Child-Made Articles.

Washington, Dec. 6.—Senator Lodge today introduced a bill designed to prevent the employment of child labor by prohibiting interstate commerce in any article in the production of which a child under 14 years of age has been employed, and the prohibition extends to children under 16 years of age who cannot read and write. The violation of the law is made a misdemeanor, punishable by fine of $500 and imprisonment for one year.

Senator Beveridge introduced a bill very similar in its provisions.

Says Loot Is Small.

Dallas, Tex., Dec. 6.—L. C. Garrison, assistant superintendent of the Pacific Express company, denies positively that $10,000 was stolen by train robbers, who held up the express car on the Cotton Belt railroad near Sulphur Springs Saturday night. He says the total loss could not have been more than $5,000 in cash.

Redistricting Cases.

Frankfort, Ky., Dec. 6.—The legislative redistricting case was assigned and set for argument on the fourth day of the January term by the court of appeals.

DUTY OF PICKET TOLD BY WITNESS

Hired By Shea To Watch For Scab Workmen

Timekeeper Kept Tab On Men and Advice Was Freely Given to Throw Bricks.

THE CHICAGO STRIKE CASE.

Chicago, Dec. 6.—The court room in which the trial of Cornelius P. Shea on charges of conspiracy in connection with the teamsters' strike of 1905 is being conducted was almost stormed today by a crowd of men eager to hear the evidence.

Joseph Schultz, who pleaded guilty to charges of conspiracy at the same time a similar plea was made by Young, was the first witness of the day.

Schultz declared that he was formerly a member of the truck drivers' union, and had said that he was hired by Shea during the strike to act as a picket. His work, he said, was done in the vicinity of the store of Montgomery, Ward & Co.

"I was hired by Shea," the witness declared.

Schultz testified that he received $2 per day while acting as a picket, and said he worked in a squad of ten men.

The witness said that he reported three times a day at 83 Madison street, which was the headquarters for the pickets. He said that a man named Tom McCormick kept the time card for the pickets and declared that McCormick advised him to get behind wagons and throw bricks at the non-union drivers. He also testified that he heard Stephen Summers, business agent of the milk wagon drivers' union, who is on trial in this present case, tell of how Summers had heat on up "a lot of finks."

Halley's Comet.

The most famous of all comets, though not the largest and most brilliant, will again be visible in 1910. This is Halley's comet, so called from its identification by the great astronomer who was the friend of Sir Isaac Newton. Halley's investigations of astronomical records led him to assert that the comet which he had observed in 1682 had appeared in 1531 and in 1697. The fulfillment of his prophecy excited the most intense scientific interest and established beyond doubt the periodicity of comets and their movements in orbits determined by the law of gravitation. Its last appearance was in 1835, its period varying between seventy-five and seventy-six years on account of the perturbing attractions of Jupiter and Saturn in certain parts of its orbit. It was by that time possible to calculate its movements with so much greater accuracy than before that it made its perihelion passage within four days of the predicted date. It was not then a very grand object to the naked eye, but the light of its nucleus surpassed that of second magnitude stars and was comparable with that of some reddish stars of the first magnitude, such as Arcturus and Antares. Its tail, while the comet was approaching the sun, attained to a length of 20 degrees.—Leslie's Weekly.

TARIFF REVISION.

Massachusetts Congressman at Head of New Crusade.

Washington, Dec. 6.—Congressman Butler Ames, of Massachusetts has begun a propaganda for an immediate movement in the interest of tariff revision. He says he is not undertaking to secure action at the present session of congress, but is urging upon Republican members the advisability of a general caucus to "give concerted expression of their determination to immediately revise the inequalities present in our tariff laws so that all possible notice to the country at large may be given as to the time of revision."

He thinks that the subject should be taken up immediately after the 1st of March, and would have the caucus determine the best method of procedure, and whether the whole tariff laws should be revised or only particular schedules amended.

Each Sam's Wealth.

Washington, Dec. 6.—Leaders in congress must pass the ship subsidy bill to get rid of a threatening treasury surplus or revise the tariff. The United States is getting rich so fast they don't know what to do with the money. At the close of business yesterday the surplus in round numbers was sixteen and one-half millions. A year ago the treasurer had a deficit of over $10,000,000.

NEWS OF KENTUCKY

State Wins Suit.

Versailles, Ky., Dec. 6.—Circuit Judge Robert L. Stout, of the state fiscal court has directed Attorney General Hays at Frankfort to prepare judgment for the commonwealth in suits instituted in its name by state insurance Commissioner Henry R. Prewitt against the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance company, of Milwaukee, Wis., and the Mutual Benefit Life Insurance company, of Newark, N. J., in which the state seeks to recover taxes due for five years on the portion of premiums which the company distributed to policyholders as dividends during that time and on which they made no report to the state. The case will undoubtedly go to the court of appeals on appeal from the decision of Judge Stout, and if that judgment is upheld the state will, it is estimated, recover in the neighborhood of $20,000 on taxes for the years since 1900. Other companies interested awaiting the decision are the Connecticut Mutual, the Mutual Life of New York, and the New York Life.

Suicides in Office.

London, Ky., Dec. 6.—Miss Lolo Adams, a pretty girl of 16, swallowed morphine in the office of Dr. C. L. Troutman, at East Hermitage today and died this evening. She had threatened suicide and several persons who saw her enter the office expected her intention. They followed and found her as she was swallowing the morphine in large quantities. Dr. Troutman returned and treated the girl but in vain.

The girl has visited the doctor's office frequently of late. Dr. Troutman and his wife recently separated, and the doctor was held under bond on a charge of betraying the girl who today ended her life.

Bischoff Is Insane.

Louisville, Dec. 6.—Jacob Bischoff, under sentence of death for the murder of his wife was yesterday declared insane by a jury summoned on request of his attorney, J. P. Edwards, and presided over by Sheriff Henry Bell. Bischoff was to have been hanged at sunrise Friday morning. He will now be committed to an asylum until such time as he may regain a normal mental condition, in which case the sentence of the law will be carried out.

OATH OF BLOOD TAKEN BY GROWERS

At A Secret Meeting Held In Caldwell County

Princeton Citizens Organize Law and Order League to Bring Men to Justice.

THE INVESTIGATION CONTINUES.

Princeton, Ky., Dec. 6.—Evidence showing that members of the Dark Tobacco Growers' association of Caldwell county have taken an oath to shed blood if necessary to further the cause of the growers who are fighting the tobacco trust was brought out in testimony this afternoon before State Fire Marshal Mott Ayres, investigating the outrage of last Friday night.

Price Morse, aged 18, member of the association swore that he heard the statement at a secret meeting of the planters. "I want all those who will pledge themselves to take up arms and shed blood for the association to stand up," Morse said many of the men stood up, and that all those who refused to take the oath were excluded from the meeting.

Law and Order League.

Princeton, Ky., Dec. 6.—While there is no excitement on the streets here today there is intense feeling over the outrages committed by the "night riders" in burning the tobacco barns here, and the people are beginning to express their views a little more freely. The Rev. G. W. Hummel, pastor of the Methodist church, and the Rev. Dr. Cassell, the Presbyterian minister, and one or two other influential citizens, are taking steps to form a "Law and Order League," with a view of aiding justice, if not indeed accelerating it.

WISCONSIN OFFICES COME HIGH.

Candidates' Statements of Expenses Reveal Heavy Disbursements.

Madison, Wis., Dec. 6.—Sworn statements filed in the secretary of state's office by candidates for party nominations at the September primaries and for office at the regular election last month show that the office seekers spent a large amount in their campaigns. W. D. Connor, of Marshfield, Republican lieutenant gubernatorial candidate, and the man credited with having brought about the defeat of Senator La Follette's candidates for the Republican nomination for governor, Irvine L. Leuroot, of Superior, spent the most. Mr. Connor says that he expended $17,334. Mr. Connor's salary will be $1,000 a year. Mr. Leuroot spent $7,753; John A. Aylward, of Madison, Democratic candidate for governor, $3,680; Frank L. Gilbert, of Madison, Republican attorney general-elect, $1,447.54, and his Democratic opponent, Martin L. Lucke, of Juneau, $324. Congressman Haddock, who was defeated for re-election spent $7,621.

Shuts Himself Out.

A new anecdote of James Whitcomb Riley is told. Mr. Riley, it appears, is extremely averse to social functions. He was recently, however, induced to attend a "literary" dinner in Indianapolis given in honor of a novelist of that city.

Riley had been told to take in to dinner a sister of his host, an excellent woman, though anything but "literary."

The conversation touching upon the beauties of the Chaucer, about whom a certain set of the city was then cultivating a fad, a spirited discussion ensued, during which the bewildered sister caught from time to time only the name "Chaucer."

At last she whispered to Riley: "Who is Mr. Chaucer they're talking so much about? Is he very popular in society?"

"Madam," solemnly responded Riley, "that man did something that forever shuts him out of society."

"Heavens!" exclaimed the worthy dame, "and what was that?"

"He died several hundred years ago," said Riley.—Harper's.

State Press Agent.

Winfield Kan., Dec. 6.—Kansas is going to have a paid advertising agent, and he is going to get a fat sum from the state to write for the press of the east. He will advertise Kansas' resources. His appointment will be by the legislature. Kansas crops this year exceed all others, and the state believes that by spending $50,000 a year advertising the fact, it can induce sufficient traffic to the state to increase the land values.

There are times when an ounce of ingenuity discounts a ton of energy.

A trip abroad is the surest way to teach people to appreciate home.

EVERYBODY WANTS HARLAN TO RUN

Says Representative Langley Of The Tenth

Great Jurist Would Receive Support Of Better Class of Both Parties.

HIGHEST TYPE OF MANHOOD

Washington, Dec. 6.—Representative-elect John W. Langley, of the Tenth Kentucky district, today gave the gubernatorial boom of John M. Harlan, of the United States supreme court, an increased impetus by coming out flat-footedly for the jurist.

"I do not know," said Mr. Langley today, "what Justice Harlan will do. I do know this, however, he is the undoubted choice of the Republicans of Kentucky, and if he is nominated he will sweep the state. I am not disparaging the candidacy of any other man who has been mentioned for governor of Kentucky when I make this statement, but there is practically but one opinion in the state; that is that Justice Harlan would make an extraordinary strong candidate and would be elected by a handsome majority."

"Justice Harlan," continued Mr. Langley, "has reflected great credit upon the state by his services on the bench. He is recognized as the highest type of man and he would bring to his support thousands of Democrats and hold in line every Republican. I have no hesitancy in saying that I am in favor of the nomination of Justice Harlan."

When it was suggested to Mr. Langley that Justice Harlan is now 73 years old, Mr. Langley replied: "No, that is incorrect. Justice Harlan is 73 years young."

Mr. Langley was in conference with Justice Harlan yesterday, and while he admitted that the demands the justice is receiving to make the race were discussed, he declined to talk of that phase of the subject.

"I presume," said Mr. Langley, "that if the demand for Justice Harlan continues he will take some cognizance of it, but I do not know. At all events, a statement as to Justice Harlan's intentions should come from him personally rather than one of his political friends."

REBATES

Responsible for Trio of Big Western Monopolies.

Denver, Dec. 6.—The wholesale payment of rebates and the granting of preferential rates were shown before the interstate commerce commission today to be the methods employed by the Denver and Rio Grande railroad system in building up what are reputed to be two of the greatest monopolies west of the Missouri river. The coal monopoly, represented by the Utah Fuel company, and the iron and steel monopoly represented by the Colorado Fuel and Iron company. The evidence which was produced with respect to the Utah Fuel company has been turned over to the United States district attorney here with a view to presentation to a federal grand jury which will be asked to return indictments for the payment of rebates.

Fiddle and Violin.

"Fiddle" is a word that has lost dignity to such an extent that no doubt Senator Sarasale whose recitals begin at Beethoven Hall, would be entitled to resent being called a "fiddler" instead of a "violinist." All the same, "fiddle" is centuries older in our language than "violin," and "fiddle" and "violin" are probably etymological doublets. Though the former has reached us by some Teutonic route, and the latter came from Italy via Provence, both are believed to go back to the late Latin "vidula" or "vitula." Since the instrument so-called appears to have received its name as one appropriate to the merriment of a festival ("vitulari"—to keep a festival), and since "vitulari" probably meant originally to sacrifice a calf ("vitulus"), we have the astonishing result that "fiddle," "violin" and "veal" may be reckoned as relations.—London Exchange.

IN YOUR KITCHEN

Thanksgiving Christmas and New Year

There's a combination of good cheer—and hard, unnecessary work for the housewife.

On such occasions, bear in mind, a McDougall Kitchen Cabinet would do half your work. And it will do the same every day as long as you live.

And it will save enough in kitchen supplies to pay for itself in one year and pay you $25 or $30 every year thereafter as long as you live.

As long as you live, we repeat, because that's the kind of durability you get in a McDougall and in no other cabinet.

Neither will you find McDougall convenience, cleanliness and superior finish in any other cabinet.

There are other cabinets that sell for about the same prices as the McDougall and there are others "made-to-sell" at from $2 to $4 less.

But no really economical woman can afford to buy such a cabinet when she can get a genuine McDougall for $18 to $28.

And no discerning woman will have anything but a genuine McDougall if she will but see the McDougall before buying any other.

Our thirty day trial plan will enable you to put a McDougall in your kitchen right now.

First time you're down town, make it a point to see our attractive McDougall display.

Daily Thought.
"Choose sunny ways and a speech, frank, honest and charitable to the uttermost."

CURRENCY REFORM.
At last the prospects of the much needed currency reform are brightened as the shadow of unreasonable prejudice recedes. For many years currency legislation, especially legislation for the purpose of making the currency elastic, was regarded with an antipathy of long standing, the companion to the severe attack of Anglo-phobia with which the nation was stricken a few years back. Suggestions of bankers that some remedy should be afforded for a condition which caused fluctuating rates, were regarded with the same suspicious that attended arguments of physicians in favor of better sanitation. People couldn't understand why a banker should desire reasonable, stable rates of interest, any more than they could figure out why a doctor should desire healthful conditions. The simple fact is that bankers and doctors are affected by whatever affects the whole community and in the same way. Unhealthful physical and financial conditions, epidemics and excessive rates of interest, afflict them as they do the rest of us. Few people, in fact have understood the financial situation. "Elastic currency" and "automatic system," are terms we pass by as technical. We hear of 30 per cent. for call loans in New York. We hear of the money "needed to move the crops of the west" and read about the New York banks importing $10,000,000 in gold from Europe. Then we lean back with a sigh of contentment, satisfied with the majestic proportions of the figures, notwithstanding the fact that ten times $10,000,000 would no more than suffice in a panic. The secretary of the treasurer comes to the aid of the banks and deposits money. After awhile he has to come out in a statement to the press associations—that he won't deposit any more money.

The truth is, money like every other commodity goes after profits. There is just so much money in existence and it has to be wisely used in cash transactions. The farmers of the west must have the cash. So, in the fall the gold dollars and the silver dollars engage in a grand rush for the western plains, draining New York, and the importation from Europe and deposits by the government begin. Up go interest rates and, presently call loans in New York soar to 30 per cent. Back rushes the money from the west to New York pell mell, and, as the tide ebbs and flows, obnoxious conditions that are as certain and regular as the movements of the planets, the interest rates over the country rise and fall in response. "Money is tight," they say and we all know what that means.

A local example of the necessity for ready cash at certain times of the year is afforded in the situation right now. Tobacco is coming into the warehouses every day and cash must be paid on delivery. It is safe to say that the Louisville banks are sending a half million dollars a day to interpose points to pay for tobacco. Now, the same money is needed to do the ordinary business of the bank with.

An elastic currency simply means a system by which the actual currency of the bank can be expanded in these annual exigencies for the accommodation of the customers.

The bankers' association proposes that they be allowed to issue notes to a certain per cent. of their capital under the direction of the treasury department, the tax on these notes being high enough to drive the notes back to the banks when not actually needed. President Roosevelt calls this remedy to the attention of congress, but makes no recommendation further than to ask that some remedy be applied.

We favor a ship canal from the lakes to the gulf, but our enthusiasm is tempered with selfishness. We are not up to the standard of those broad-minded, public-spirited citizens of St. Louis and Chicago, who are working to divert $3,000,000 of the rivers and harbors appropriation into the canal channel. We actually are so base as to favor blowing the money in to promote a nine foot channel in the Ohio river. That ship canal is a dream of future decades, when it comes to damming and controlling the current of the Mississippi; but year 'round navigation on the Ohio river is a thing of present need.

The London Standard, in commenting on the president's message, says the most significant feature is that the president is "constantly finding himself up against the American Constitution." Well, that is what it is there for. Mr. Roosevelt is a little impatient of delays, quick to decide and quick to act. If he did not encounter an obstacle in the constitution once in a while the rest of us would be breathless trying to keep up with him. We are inclined to think that Mr. Roosevelt and the constitution will get along all right together.

John Wesley Gaines has introduced a bill increasing the salary of a congressman to $7,500, and provides that the raise will not take effect until the sixty-first congress. Congressman Gaines by increasing the emoluments may be adding an incentive to some one to contest his nomination the next time.

A Massachusetts town was sold at auction Monday. That is a fate never visited on any town in this section. To be sure Kentucky has a degenerate citizen once in a while that has to be sold under the hammer, but no towns.

Democratic leaders should be gratified and flattered when somebody offers to take one of their planks and make a practical test of it. What do they want to do with their planks, anyway?

There is no such thing as a necessary evil. No evil is necessary. Nothing that is necessary is evil.

So live that you will feel all right when you wake up in the morning.

NEW YORK'S WEALTH.
By the computation of the census bureau, the wealth of the state of New York comprised in farms and other real property, factories, railroads, telegraphs, canals, machinery, gold and silver, etc., is $14,769,042,207.

This is approximately one-seventh of the national total of $107,000,000,000. It exceeds Italy's wealth by nearly $2,000,000,000, and is about equal to the combined national resources of Spain, Portugal, Switzerland and the Netherlands. It ranks New York among the financial great powers, with a standing just below that of Austria-Hungary.

A per capita division of the state's wealth would give $2,000 to every man, woman and child, as compared with the national average of $1,320. It represents the aggregate possessions of 15,000 plain millionaires, 50 Carnegies or 20 Rockefellers. It would buy all the railroads in the United States.

To this enormous wealth state is adding $500,000,000 a year, or almost the valuation of Baltimore. It is a wonderful showing of material prosperity, one that gives a prouder claim to the title of Empire State. Within this single commonwealth is now contained more than double the wealth of the entire national half a century ago, and its annual increase more than exceeds the total value of our export trade when Grant was president.—New York World.

WHAT WE CAN DUPLICATE.
Each setting sun sees the south richer by over $3,000,000 in actual wealth, but even this is not more important than the accumulation of experience in the utilization of our resources which is now in progress and the awakening of the entire country to the fact that in the south is to center the mightiest industrial and commercial forces of the world. This section can duplicate the coal and iron and steel industry of the north and west; it can duplicate the cotton-spinning interests of the world; it can duplicate the lumber and wood working interests of the entire country; it can duplicate the oil trade of America, if not the world's; it can continue to monopolize the world's cotton production; it can produce all the rice needed in America, nearly all the tobacco and much of the sugar; it can duplicate all of the citrus fruit and trucking industry of the country; it can double its present cereal crop of 800,000,000 bushels double and quadruple its cotton crop, duplicate through its great rivers and splendid harbors the coastwise and foreign trade of the country. It can and will do all these things and even then not have reached the limit of its development. —Manufacturers' Record.

ROOSTER
ACTED AS PROXY AT AN ORIENTAL WEDDING.

Chinaman in America United to Gilt He Never Saw—"Friend" Was There.

Washington, Dec. 6.—Behind a decision of the secretary of commerce and labor, ordering the deportation of a Chinese lad who recently applied for admission to the United States at Los Angeles, lies a story of unusual interest. Sam Por, a merchant at Los Angeles, claimed that the boy, who is fourteen years of age, was his son and that under the law the immigration officials had no other alternative than to permit him to land.

The testimony in the case shows that Sam Por has lived in this country since 1881 and that he has never paid a visit to his native land. He told the inspectors at Los Angeles that he was married; that his wife did not live in the United States; had never been here, and in fact that he had yet to have the pleasure of meeting her. When asked how he knew the boy was his son he replied that his wife had told him so.

Further questioning developed that Sam, in accordance with an ancient Chinese custom, married his wife by proxy. The inspectors therefore expected to be told that the friend who acted proxy at the marriage ceremony was the father of the boy. But a surprise was in store for them.

"Who was the proxy?" queried one of the inspectors.

"A rooster," replied the merchant. "A rooster?" repeated the astonished inspector. "What kind of a rooster?"

"A Shanghai rooster," said the Oriental with a bland smile.

These things are set forth in a report just received at the department of commerce and labor. As the inspectors were unable to get satisfactory information as to the paternity of the boy, they recommended that he be deported, and an order to that effect was accordingly issued by Secretary Metcalf. It developed that it is a custom in Chinese marriages by proxy to have an animal or bird act in the place of the absent principal.

Relief for Rheumatism.
These damp days are hard on people afflicted with rheumatism, and relief is sought in all sorts of remedies.

There is no doubt in the minds of people who have suffered with the dread disease and those who have studied it closely that probably more relief can be secured from the Osteopathic treatment than any other.

Of course, some chronic cases won't yield to any treatment, but instances of cases of seven and eight years' standing yielding to three months' treatment can be cited. If you are suffering from rheumatism, I should like to discuss your case with you, examine you and tell you what I can do for you. With the dry hot air treatment that I use with osteopathy I am having very gratifying success with people you know well.

ATTORNEYS' FEES IN REHKOPF CASE

Allowed By The Referee After Hearing of Objections

Several New Holdings Returned By Grand Jury This Morning In Report.

CRIMINAL COURT PROGRESS.

Executions to claims filed by the assignee and attorneys in the bankrupt matter of the E. Rehkopf Saddlery company were tried in Referee E. W. Bagby's court yesterday afternoon. All proof was heard and the following disposition made:

Claim of R. J. Barber, assignee, $500, allowed.

Claim of Premium Surety company, $142, for premium on bond of Assignee R. J. Barber, cut to $60, and allowed.

Claim of Campbell and Campbell, attorneys for assignee in state court, $1,000, cut to $500 and allowed.

Claim of Attorneys W. V. Eaton and J. D. McQuinn, representing creditors, $1,000, cut to $500 and allowed.

Attorneys Campbell and Campbell for filing schedule in bankrupt court, $50 allowance.

Official Order.
This morning an official order awarding machines to the Bosworth Machine company, of Maine, was made in the E. Rehkopf Saddlery company case. The company filed a duplicate lease, showing the machine had not been purchased outright.

In Circuit Court.
At press time the case against Sam Liebel and A. V. Bauer, for nuisance, was being argued. They operated a saloon at 900 Washington street, frequented principally by negroes.

T. J. Berry Charles Frederick and H. M. Dalton were excused as petit jurors, and A. L. Robertson, M. Schwab and G. W. Webb substituted.

A warrant charging Will McMurray, colored, who yesterday got one year in the penitentiary for obtaining money by false pretenses, with petit larceny, was filed away. He stole an overcoat and sold it. The indictment is for the theft of the coat.

In the case of Sam Liebel, who got $350 fine and six months in jail for malicious shooting, a motion for a new trial was entered.

The case against C. E. Blackburn for furnishing liquor to a minor was dismissed.

In Criminal Court.
A fine of $350 with six months in jail is the punishment inflicted on Sam Liebel for shooting at John Muller. The two had differences and when Liebel thought Muller made remarks about his conduct, rushed back to his saloon, secured a pistol and opened fire when he saw Muller again. It is alleged, he will appeal.

C. W. Carney, Ira Burnley, M. L. a boy.

Shelton and Harry M. Dalton were chosen as petit jurors.

All cases against bawdy house keepers were left open on the docket until Judge Reed learns whether the operators of these houses have closed them.

Attaches Goods.
Three barrels and sixty-five bags of flour were attached yesterday by Temple Bros. at the store of J. M. Perkins, Eighth and husbands streets. The store was closed several days ago by M. Livingston & company for a debt. The Temple case will come up December 17 for trial.

New Suits.
Felix Radolph, administrator of the estate of H. A. Rose, filed suit against the Interstate Life Insurance company for $10,000 in the circuit court. The suit was withdrawn from federal court the last term and several defects remedied before filing in the state court again.

Mrs. Maggie Overstreet filed suit against the Grand Lodge of the Ancient Order of United Workmen for $2,000, the face of a policy on the life of William Overstreet, who died two years ago.

Third Report of Grand Jury.
The grand jury made its third report this morning returning four indictments as follows: Claborn Warren, colored, for maliciously cutting Elvin Jeffords, a 15-year-old white boy; John Callahan, for maliciously cutting John Rook; Wood Jones and Charles Grosshart, for selling an overcoat which did not belong to them, representing it as their property; Oscar Hoffman, for breaking into the house of J. C. Hlast.

Deeds Filed.
Ceel Reed, M. C., to H. Diehl, Sr., property near Clark on Third streets, $400.

Fred Beyer et al to R. C. McEllya, 130 acres in the county, $2,250.

Estella Alvey to B. B. Griffith, property at 27th street and Kentucky avenue, $1,000.

W. D. Melton to G. L. Matlock, property in the county, $1,500.

Marriage License.
John Will Albert, city, 24, to Annie Rosie McLaughlin city, 24.

E. K. Fentrell, county, 31, to Idella Fentrell, county, 24.

Five Hundred Club.
Mrs. Will Hurdshaw, Jr., was the hostess of the Five Hundred club yesterday afternoon at her home on West Broadway. It was strictly a club affair, with a few visitors to fill club vacancies. Mrs. Robert Reeves, won the club prize and Mrs. Laura Fowler, the visitor's prize.

Udder Was Near Death.
Wires charged with eleven hundred volts of electricity swishing in the air at Fourth street and Kentucky avenue this morning placed a man on a bicycle near death at 11 o'clock. The trolley of an inbound car from the union passenger station flew off the wire, jerking some wires loose from a pole. They swished within a foot of the rider's head and had they touched him, would have electrocuted him instantly.

Born to the wife of Mr. James Hofflich, of 517 North Eighth street, a boy.

WILL PAY JUST DEBTS.

Mine, Anna Gould Will Not Pay Accounts of Usurers.

Paris, Dec. 6.—The reply of Maitre Cruppi, counsel for Count Boni de Castellane and the former countess, in the suit of their creditors, consumed the entire session of the tribunal of first instance of the Seine today. M. Cruppi declared how the tradesmen and usurers' bills had been cleverly mixed up, and reiterated the perfect willingness of Madame Anna Gould to settle the legitimate debts, although a delay was necessary, as there was no funds from the trustee of the estate at her disposal at present.

INCREASE HER PENSION.

Widow of "Stonewall" Jackson to Get $25 a Month.

Washington, Dec. 5.—The pension of the widow of Gen. "Stonewall" Jackson will probably be increased from $8 to $25 a month. A bill to this effect was introduced in the senate today by Senator Overman, of North Carolina, and his Republican colleagues assured him that they would vote for the increase. Mrs. Jackson made affidavit that her income was less than $1,000 a year. She now draws $8 a month as the widow of a soldier of the Mexican war.

MURDERED AND ROBBED.

Wm. Ardley's Death at Nashville Due to Foul Play.

Nashville, Tenn., Dec. 6.—The death of William Ardley, the Brooklyn, N. Y., man who on Thanksgiving day was supposed to have met his death by accidentally falling down a stairway on Fourth avenue, now appears to have been the result of foul play. Tom White and Arthur Morton, charged with robbing and murdering Ardley, and Atkins Harmon, Sam Taylor and Grip Jones, accused of complicity, are in jail, having been arrested at an early hour this morning.

Police Court.

To pay a fine of $100 and costs for being drunk and disorderly, besides betraying the trust of City Jailor Tom Everts or leave the city within 24 hours, was the proposition made to Ernest Ozment this morning by Police Judge Cross. Ozment accepted the latter, and his every action is being closely watched by the police.

Ozment has been troubling the police for years. He was fined $25 and costs, placed in the city jail and made a trusty. He got drunk yesterday and when his mother paid $10, the remainder of his fine, and started home with him. Ozment abused Patrolman Aaron Hurley inside the station house. He was arrested, his mother refunded her $10, and Ozment given his deserts this morning.

Henry Reynolds, colored, who struck Ed Smithly, colored, in the head with a pick several weeks ago, was fined $50 and costs.

The case against B. Carroll and Grace Baty for immorality, was dismissed on motion of the prosecuting attorney.

Harahan's Appointments.

New Orleans, La., Dec. 6.—President J. T. Harahan, of the Illinois Central, who left tonight for his headquarters in Chicago, announced the appointment of G. H. Groce to the office of assistant to the general manager and E. Parsons will succeed Mr. Groce. Mr. Groce has been superintendent of telegraph and is well known in New Orleans, where he comes periodically. Mr. Parsons' work has been more in connection with the western lines of the company.

Human Flend a Suicide.

South Bend, Ind., Dec. 6.—William Eugene Cook, who confessed to crimes committed in almost every state of the union, drove a knife into his body above the heart today. Physicians say he will die. Cook was on trial for the alleged murder of John Perkins, a hermit. When discovered dying in his cell, Cook attempted to force the blade deeper into the wound.

Eighteen Hurt in Wreck.

Chicago, Dec. 6.—Train No. 36 on the Monon road, which is the last limited of that line between Cincinnati and Chicago, was derailed early today two miles north of Frankfort, Ind., by a broken rail. Eighteen passengers out of a total of 175 on the train were injured, but nobody was killed, and it is not believed that any of the injured will die.

Coal Men on Trial.

Omaha, Dec. 6.—The jury was secured today for the trial of S. H. Newell, president of the Omaha Coal Exchange, charged with maintaining an illegal combine in restraint of trade. There are 80 members of the coal exchange, all of whom are under indictment.

Patrolman John McCune, the last policeman to take a vacation, is off duty enjoying his annual rest this week.

Mr. E. C. Wolf, of the Fowler-Wolf metal works, went to Marion, Ky., this morning on business.

Mrs. Sallie McCune, mother of Patrolman John McCune, went to Louisville this morning to visit.

Engineer R. Bean, of the Illinois Central, is ill and unable to be on duty.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Scott have a daughter, born yesterday at Montgomery, Ala., where Mrs. Scott is visiting her father, Mr. Opp, and family.

John R. Rison, owner of the Paris (Tenn.) Post-Intelligencer, and mayor of that city, is in Paducah.

SIXTY DEATHS REPORTED.

In Private Advances From Scene of Arizona Flood.

Phoenix, Ariz., Dec. 6.—Private railroad dispatches received here say that 60 lives were lost at Clifton yesterday in the great flood that swept through the camp, destroying many business buildings, wrecking the smelting plant of the Arizona Copper company and tearing out miles of track of the Arizona and Mexico railroad.

Clifton, which has about 3,500 people, lies in a narrow valley near the eastern line of Arizona.

Received by Diaz.

Mexico City, Dec. 6.—Today the party of capitalists led by A. E. Stillwell, president of the Kansas City, Mexico and Orient railroad, called on Vice-President Corral and Governor Landu y Eucandun. They were received by those gentlemen and had a most pleasant interview. Later they were received by President Diaz in the National Palace.

"PUTTING ON AIRS."

Texas Cowboys Try to Lynch Negro On Train in Kansas.

Topeka, Kan., Dec. 6.—Two Texas cowboys tried to hang John E. Lewis, a negro of Wichita, on the west bound Santa Fe passenger train between Lawrence and Topeka, early today. Three times they placed a rope around Lewis' neck, but each time he got loose and after the third attempt he jumped from the train and escaped. The Texans prevented the other passengers from interfering by flourishing revolvers. Lewis wore a Knights of Pythias pin, and the cowboys said they did not like to see a negro "putting on airs." There were no arrests.

MINISTER EXPELLED.

Rev. C. W. Creighton, of South Carolina, Gets His Dismissal.

Columbia, S. C., Dec. 6.—Rev. C. W. Creighton has been dismissed from the South Carolina conference and expelled from the Methodist ministry. The trial lasted 63 hours. He has appealed to the general conference. He is editor of the Christian Appeal at Greenwood, and has made repeated charges of politics and ring rule in the conference, also alleging that the presiding elders were self-seeking. The charge against him was falsehood and slander.

Mine Is Total Wreck.

Houghton, Mich., Dec. 6.—One dead and two fatally and several less seriously injured, as far as known, is the result of a dynamite explosion in the Quincy mine Wednesday, while 40 miners were being lowered into the shaft. It was at first feared the entire forty were blown to bits. The mine is a total wreck.

Oppose Jap Citizens.

Seattle, Dec. 6.—Governor Mead is opposed to the president's recommendation that an act be passed specifically providing for the naturalization of Japanese. "Naturalization of Japanese would tend to degrade American workmen," said the governor.

Found Children Burned.

Norfolk, Dec. 6.—John Irwin, colored, a farmer, and his wife went to church and returned to find their four children burned to death. The children were put to bed and locked up in the house.

Mrs. Birdsong's Defense.

Hazlehurst, Miss., Dec. 6.—Mrs. Annie Birdsong was placed on trial today for the murder of Dr. Butler, who she claims slandered her. The unwritten law will be her defense.

Eating, versus Feeding

The real need for food is to feed the body. But eating today is practiced almost wholly to please the palate—nourishing the body is scarcely given a thought. As a result the system is overloaded with uric acid, causing Dyspepsia, Indigestion and a long list of Stomach Troubles and other diseases. The cure is Common Sense.

HOW URIC ACID CAUSES DYSPEPSIA

Improper food causes Auto-Toxemia, self poisoning by uric acid. The effect is to overload the blood with poisonous matter—uric acid. Then this is what happens.

The blood deposits little sand-like grains of uric acid in the walls of the stomach, even in the delicate lining of the stomach itself.

Then comes irritation and congestion that interferes with the flow of digestive juices causing sour stomach, indigestion, dyspepsia, ulcer of the stomach and other diseases.

Plain common sense in eating with proper aid in getting rid of the uric acid, is the only cure.

SYMPTOMS OF EXCESS OF URIC ACID

Belching, feeling of fullness after eating, sour stomach, coated tongue, poor digestion, constipation, headache, sleeplessness, dyspepsia, indigestion and all stomach troubles definitely prove poison by uric acid.

R If you have any of the above symptoms or already suffer from stomach trouble, why not use your own good judgment. Take LIFE PLANT—a common sense remedy. Cure yourself by driving out the cause of disease.

BOOKLET AND MEDICAL ADVICE FREE

Write today for valuable free booklet showing the common sense way to "Good Health." You may have free personal medical advice by writing today to L. J. Mizer, M.D., President, Life Plant Company. But get a bottle of LIFE PLANT from your druggist now.

LIFE PLANT COMPANY, Canton, Ohio

LIFE PLANT DISSOLVES URIC ACID

If you swallow a deadly poison the physicians first net is to give you an emetic—cause you to vomit out the poison.

If you have a poison—uric acid—lodged in the walls of your stomach, you cannot vomit it out, but you can and must get rid of the poison. Isn't that common sense?

LIFE PLANT is the preparation that gets rid of the poison—dissolves it out of the stomach and by proper eating you will be perfectly and certainly cured.

LIFE PLANT is not a patent medicine. It contains no narcotics, no poisons.

EQUAL RIGHTS TO JAP IMMIGRANTS

Guaranteed by Treaty in Most Favored Nation Clause

District Attorney and President of the School Board Confer About the Law.

WILL INSTITUTE A TEST SUIT.

San Francisco, Dec. 6.—According to instructions from Attorney General Moody, United States District Attorney Devlin this afternoon held a conference with President Aaron Altman, of the board of education, and city attorneys to discuss the exclusion of the Japanese from schools attended by whites and to test the state statute which requires the segregation of children of Mongolian parents in separate schools.

The proceedings will be brought either in the supreme court of California or in the federal court.

Devlin said the whole issue resolves itself into a question whether the state statute is in violation of the treaty with Japan.

He is of the opinion that the law discriminates against the Japanese, inasmuch as other children of foreign parentage and descent are not segregated in separate schools whereas the treaty with Japan guarantees Japanese of equal rights and privileges with aliens from other lands. It is on this basis that the United States district attorney is proceeding.

Another Sensation.

Pittsburg, Pa., Dec. 6.—With the arrest of J. H. Millholland, a civil engineer, on a charge of conspiracy to defraud, the issuance of warrants for the arrest of Joseph Flaherty and H. T. Bostaph on the same charge, the grand jury indictment against President C. S. Cameron, charging him with contempt and obstruction of justice, and the postponement until December 17 of the conspiracy hearing of Common Councilman W. A. Martin, the developments today in the alleged $75,000 bribery scandal between the officials of the Pittsburg and Tube City railroad and the members of the Pittsburg select and common councils were sensational.

Liquor Question Is Up.

Guthrie, Okla., Dec. 6.—President Murray, of the constitutional committee, today appointed two important commissions, namely, those on the regulation of liquor traffic and on county boundaries. That on liquor regulation is headed by Luke Roberts, of Okla. city, as chairman. The general belief is that two-thirds of the members of the latter commission, which will pass on the prohibition provision of the new constitution, favor statewide prohibition.

$3,000,000 for Canal.

Washington, Dec. 6.—A starter of about $3,000,000 is probably all that will be asked of congress at this session for the lakes to the gulf deep waterway. This is the estimate made by Representative Lorimer, of Chicago. Mr. Lorimer said today that he fully expected to see some action on the deep waterway project between Chicago and St. Louis this winter.

TERRIBLE RESULTS OF BRIGHT'S DISEASE

Lame Back And Urinary Troubles Are Danger Signals

Simple Prescription of Vegetable Ingredients Which Prevents Serious Kidney Disease.

TAKE CARE OF BACKACHE

More people succumb each year to some form of kidney trouble than any other cause. The slightest form of kidney derangement often develops into Bright's kidney disease, diabetes or dropsy. When either of these diseases are suspected the sufferer should at once seek the best medical attention possible. Consult only a good, first-class physician. Leave patent medicines alone.

There are many of the lesser symptoms of kidney trouble which can be treated at home as stated by a well known authority. For some of these, such as backache, pain in the region of the kidneys, weak bladder, frequency, (especially at night) painful urinating and other urinary troubles, try the following simple home remedy: Fluid Extract Dandelion one-half ounce, Compound Kargon one ounce, Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. These vegetable ingredients are harmless and can be obtained at any good prescription pharmacy and anyone can mix them by shaking well in a bottle. The dose for adults is a teaspoonful after each meal and again at bedtime.

There is no better general remedy known to relieve all forms of rheumatism either, because it acts directly upon the kidneys and blood. It cleans the clogged up pores in the kidneys so they can filter and strain from the blood the poisonous uric acid and waste matter which if not eliminated remain in the blood, decompose and settle about the joints and muscular tissues causing the untold suffering and deformity of rheumatism.

Backache is nature's signal notifying the sufferer that the kidneys are not acting properly. "Take care of your kidneys," is now the physician's advice to his patients.

FRISCO MATTER COMES UP EARLY

Resolution To Keep Hands Off Introduced

Surplus In Treasury Increasing at Rate That Becomes Embarrassing to Government.

LEGISLATION IS SUGGESTED.

Washington, Dec. 6.—A resolution on the Japanese situation was offered by Senator Rayner, of Maryland. Senator Rayner's resolution was as follows:

"Resolved That in the opinion of the senate this government has no right to enter into any controversy with any foreign government relating to the public school system of any of the states in the union.

"Resolved further, That it is the opinion of the senate that there is no provision in the treaty between the United States and the government of Japan that relates in any manner to this subject or in any way interferes with the right of the state of California to conduct and administer its system of public schools in accordance with its own legislation, and

"Resolved further, That it is the duty of the president of the United States to notify the government of Japan and to notify any foreign government with which the question may arise that the public educational institutions of the state are not within the jurisdiction of the United States and that the United States has no power to regulate or supervise their administration."

Tobacco Tax Fight.

Washington, Dec. 6.—The fight for a law removing the internal revenue tax from leaf tobacco is about to open again. This is distinctively a Kentucky measure, and was pushed by the Kentucky delegation in congress at the last session. It was got through the house, but was stopped in the senate committee on finance.

May Loan on Real Estate.

Washington, Dec. 6.—The bill permitting national banking associations to make loans on real estate as security and limiting the amount of such loans, passed the house today by a vote of 111 to 51.

As Schurz Felt Wagner.

The musical language of Wagner has always impressed me as something like the original language of the eternal elements—something awe-inspiringly eloquent, speaking in tones rising from mysterious depths of understanding and passion. It is difficult to illustrate by example, but I will try. Among the funeral marches in musical literature, Beethoven's and Chopin's had always most sympathetically appealed to my feelings. Beethoven's with the stately solemnity of its mourning accents, and Chopin's with its cathedral bells interwoven with melodious plaints. But when I hear the Siegfried dead march in the Gotterdammerung, my heart beats to stop at the tremendous sigh of woe, never heard before, rushing through the air.—McClure's.

Kills Driver; Spills Corpse.

Mobile, Ala., Dec. 6.—At Lucedale, Miss., yesterday evening the horses attached to the hearse bearing the remains of the father of Dr. W. P. Brewton became frightened as the funeral procession started for the cemetery and ran away. The driver, Oscar Grimes, aged twenty-two years, was killed and the corpse left out and exposed to view. The runaway caused considerable excitement.

"Seeing the Southwest" EXCURSIONS

Doubtless you have heard of the Humber Crops which have been raised this year in Arkansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma, Indian Territory, Texas and New Mexico. Have you compared them with results obtained in your section? Is your work where you are, bringing you adequate returns for the capital invested and the labor expended? If not, a change would be beneficial perhaps. A visit to the Southwest will open your eyes. Out in Oklahoma the last big land opening is soon to take place; farms are still very cheap in Western Arkansas, Northern Louisiana and the Gulf Coast of Texas. Let us give you full information about these sections. You will want to see them after you have examined our illustrated literature.

VERY LOW RATES, ONE WAY AND RETURN TRIP to southwestern points first and third Tuesdays each month.

Save One-Half Your Wood

If you have a

WILSON WOOD HEATER

your wood pile need be only half the size of your neighbor's who uses the "other kind." The patent Hot Blast Down-Draft found only in the Wilson makes it possible to get 100 per cent of heat from your fuel, the gases which ordinarily arise from the fuel and escape unburned up the chimney in other heaters, are all consumed in the Wilson. These gases constitute one-half the burnable part of the fuel. The Wilson burns anything—corn cobs, shavings, chips, bark, roots and cord wood.

The Wilson is air-tight, so readily responds to its dampers that an even temperature can be maintained throughout all the changes of our varied climate. Remember, every day that you use the Wilson you are saving one-half your fuel bill.

He dragged at the dragon's leg, while the other gripped his way up the balustrade until a buzz of congratulation from the crowd he tumbled all in a heap over the rail on to the balcony, where he lay for a few moments as he had fallen. Then, staggering to his feet, without a glance at his opponent, he rushed with a yell of rage through the open window.

While this little drama had been enacted overhead the young guardsman had shaken off his first stupor of amazement and had pushed his way through the crowd with such vigor that he and his companion had nearly reached the bottom of the steps. The uniform of the king's guard was in itself a passport anywhere, and the face of old Catnat was so well known in the district that every one drew back to clear a path for him toward his house. The door was hung open for them, and an old servant stood wringing his hands in the dark passage.

"Oh, master! Oh, master!" he cried. "Such danger! Such danger!"

As he spoke a clatter and shouting which had burst out again upstairs ended suddenly in a tremendous crash, with valleys of oaths and a prolonged bumping and smashing, which shook the old house to its foundations. The soldier and the Huguenot rushed swiftly up the first flight of stairs and were about to ascend the second one, from the head of which the uproar seemed to proceed, when four men, so locked together that they formed but one rolling bundle, came thudding down amid a debris of splintered stair rails and writhed and struggled upon the landing, staggering up, falling down, and all bounding together like the wind in a chimney. So twisted and twisted were they that it was hard to pick one from the other save that the innermost was clad in black Flemish cloth, while the three who clung to him were soldiers of the king. Yet so strong and vigorous was the man whom they tried to hold that as often as he could find his feet he dragged them after him from end to end of the passage, as a bear might pull the cubs which had fastened on to his hanches. An officer, who had rushed down at the heels of the bravest, thrust his hands in to catch the civilian by the throat, but he whipped them back again with an oath as the man's strong white teeth met in his left thumb. Clapping the wound to his mouth, he flashed out his sword and was about to drive it through the body of his unarmed opponent when the latter sprang forward and caught him by the wrist.

"You villain, Daltrey!" he cried.

The sudden appearance of one of the king's own bodyguards had a magic effect upon the bravest. Daltrey sprang back, with his thumb still in his mouth and his sword dropping, scowling darkly at the newcomer. His troops had released their victim and stood panting in a line, while the young man leaned against the wall, brushing the dust from his black coat.

"I had a little account to settle with you before, Daltrey," said the Catnat, unsheathing his rapier. Your sword, sir."

"I have no quarrel with you."

"No?" Daltrey stepped forward and struck him across the face with his open hand. "It seems to me that you have one now," said he.

"Hell and furies!" screamed the captain. "To your arms, men! Hold, there, from above! Cut down this fellow and seize your prisoner! Hold! In the king's name!"

At his call a dozen more troopers came hurrying down the stairs, while the three upon the landing advanced upon their former antagonist. He slipped by them, however, and caught on of the old merchant's hand the thick oak stick.

"I am with you, sir," said he, taking his place beside the guardsman.

"Call off your canaille and fight me like a gentleman," cried the Catnat.

"A gentleman! Hark to the bourgeois Huguenot, whose family peddles cloth!"

"You coward, I will write him on you with my sword point!"

He sprang forward and sent in a thrust which might have found his way to Daltrey's heart had the heavy salver of a dragon not descended from the side and shorn his more delicate weapon off close to the hilt. With a shout of triumph his enemy sprang furiously upon him with his rapier shortened, but was met by a sharp blow from the cudgel of the young stranger which sent his weapon clattering on to the ground. A trooper, however, on the stair had pulled out a pistol and, clapping it within a foot of the guardsman's head, was about to settle the combat once and forever when a little old gentleman who had quietly ascended from the street and who had been looking on with an amused and interested smile at this very sequence of events took a sudden quick step forward and ordered all parties to drop their weapons with a voice so decided, so stern and so full of authority that the sober points all clunked down together upon the parquet flooring as though it were a part of their daily drill.

"Upon my word, gentlemen; upon my word!" he said, looking sternly from one to the other. In his gait and bearing he had a dainty strut and backward cock of the head, which, taken with his sharp black eyes, his high, thin features and his assured manner, would impress a stranger with the feeling that this was a man of power. And, indeed, in France or out of it there were few to whom this man's name was not familiar, for in all France the only figure which loomed up as large as that of the king was this very little gentleman who stood now, with gold snuffbox in one hand and deep laced handkerchief in the other, upon the landing of the Huguenot's house, for who was there who did not know the last of the great French nobles, the harvest of French captivities, the beloved Comte, victor of Rocroy and hero of the Fronde?

De Catnat raised the stump of his sword in a salute.

"Heh, heh!" cried the old soldier, peering at him. "You were with me on the Rhine—eh? I know your face, captain. But the household was with Turenne."

"I was in the regiment of Plénery, your highness. De Catnat is my name."

"Yes, yes. But you, sir, who the devil are you?"

"Such danger! Such danger!" he cried.

SCIENTISTS SAY NOT HER PICTURE

Alleged Story of Mrs. Baker
G. Eddy Denounced

Organization and McClure's Come to Issue About Publication—
Statement.

AFFIDAVITS ARE FURNISHED.

Boston, Dec. 6.—Alfred Farlow, general manager of the committee on publication for the Christian Science church, today gave out the following statement:

"McClure's Magazine, in the December issue, published a picture which is represented as a photograph of Mrs. Eddy taken in 1882. It is not a picture of Mrs. Eddy, but is a likeness of Mrs. Sarah C. Chevallier, who formerly lived in Boston, and who died in California two years ago. This fact is incontrovertibly established by the affidavit of Mrs. Chevallier's son, which appears in this article. We have in our possession the picture of Mrs. Chevallier, which we have just received from her son and which is an exact duplicate of the one used by McClure's."

"In connection with this portrait, McClure's publishes an editorial announcement of a story relating to the Rev. Mary Baker G. Eddy, the discoverer and founder of Christian Science. It is stated that as a result of a careful investigation their story is probably 'as near absolute accuracy as history ever gets.' Indeed the introduction in question lays great stress upon the accuracy of its proposed history. Again it is said: 'Practically no assistance can be obtained from Christian Scientists themselves,' that 'she (Mrs. Eddy) refuses to be consulted personally on the main facts of her own life.'"

"It should be stated that according to the custom, McClure's representative who applied to Mrs. Eddy for an interview, was referred to the committee on publication, who is specially appointed for the purpose of rendering any assistance in his power to the representatives of the public press who may be gathering data on the subject of Christian Science and its leader."

"In a conversation with members of McClure's staff, several months ago, I informed them that if they would submit their data to me I would be pleased to assist them in their verification, giving them as my reason that there were documents in circulation and rumors afloat which were not genuine. They have not availed themselves of my offer."

"Notwithstanding the facts which we have stated, we find in this editorial announcement a picture of another woman which is represented by McClure's as a portrait of 'Mrs. Mary Baker G. Eddy,' taken in Boston in 1882. The picture does not in any point resemble Mrs. Eddy."

"On November 9th, and before the December number of McClure's was placed on the news stands, I wrote to the managing editor of McClure's, apprising him of his error, but received no reply. My letter follows:

"I have just been looking at the advertisement which you have in Edge-ways of the 17th inst. In the center of the page is a picture which I assume is represented as a portrait of Mrs. Eddy. I hasten to inform you that this is not a picture of Mrs. Eddy; there is nothing about it that would remind one of her. I have seen Mrs. Eddy frequently during the past twenty-two years and know her face well enough to draw a likeness."

of it if I were an artist,—therefore I speak from positive knowledge.

"It was my fear that you might be imposed upon by just such counterfeits that impelled me to suggest that your manuscript relating to Mrs. Eddy be submitted to someone thoroughly posted concerning the events of her life."

"Directly underneath the McClure portrait is a modern signature of Mrs. Eddy, which might give the impression that it had been written on this photograph by Mrs. Eddy. This of course could not possibly be true since the portrait is not a likeness of Mrs. Eddy and never was in her hands. Beneath one of the genuine portraits appended to this statement, we publish a facsimile of Mrs. Eddy's signature as she wrote it in 1882."

"When called upon to produce the photograph from which the picture was made, and to give the name of the photographer, the editor of McClure's declined, saying he would give what information he could a few days later."

"I then went to work to obtain evidence, by which I could disprove McClure's allegation, and show the public that another face had been substituted for that of Mrs. Eddy."

Marshall, Texas, Nov. 27, 1906.
Mr. Alfred Farlow, Boston, Mass.

Dear Sir:—The photograph enclosed herewith, taken by the Notman Photographic company, 3 Park street, and 184 Boylston street, Boston, Massachusetts, is a portrait of my mother, Mrs. Sarah C. Chevallier. By a comparison, any one can easily see that the portrait published on page 212 of McClure's Magazine for December, 1906, is the picture of my mother, and to the best of my knowledge and belief is an exact copy of the photograph enclosed.

Paducah	16.4	1.9	fall

While it lasted the rain was hard last night. 54 inches fell in two hours. The river fell 1.9 in the last 24 hours, the stage this morning being 16.4. Business at the wharf continues good and will be heavy up until Christmas week.

Driftwood accumulating around the rudder of the City of Memphis last night at the wharf, delayed that boat several hours in leaving for the Tennessee river. A whole tree got wedged in between the wheel and around the rudder. After two hours and a half hard work the obstruction was removed and the steamer left for her destination.

The towboat Liveness of the Ayer-Lord Traction company's fleet will be taken out on the ways today for repairs. The repairs will not be extensive.

The I. N. Hook arrived last night from the Tennessee river with a tow of ties.

To handle a larger amount of freight, new guards will be built on the wharf side of the wharfoat thus utilizing several feet of space now unoccupied. It will be unprotected from the weather, but only freight which weather does not injure, will be placed there. The freight depots and wharfoats always are indexes of prosperity or the opposite. A trip to the wharfoat or to the freight depots would show an enormous amount being handled, more than ever before in the city's history.

A steamboat clerk, irritated by the thickheadedness of some passengers who refused to give up baggage checks, thereby effectually preventing their baggage being transferred from one steamer to another and consequently having it left, wound up his philippic with this picturesque and dramatic sentence: "Why, if some persons got on a boat at Cincinnati bound to hell, they would expect their baggage to be there when they got there."

The Georgia Lee left Cincinnati yesterday bound to Memphis and will arrive here Friday afternoon or night.

The Kentucky will arrive from the Tennessee river tonight and leave Saturday for the same river.

The Hartford will arrive tomorrow morning from Clarksville and leave at noon for Nashville on the new schedule announced previously in this column.

The Satellite will arrive tomorrow afternoon from the Tennessee river on the way to St. Louis.

WILL REGULATE ALL BILLBOARDS

Board of Public Works Orders
Changes Made.

Street Railway Company Must Pay
the City Inspector Who is Watching the Work.

WANTS TO CHOOSE OFFICERS

The board of public works thinks that the appointment of a sewer inspector, wharfmaster and market master lies within its jurisdiction, and yesterday authorized a letter to the general council to this effect.

The city lighting plant superintendent was instructed to make out a bill of damages for the delay of material and machinery for the city lighting plant.

Piling, if needed, was ordered under the Sixth street island creek bridge.

An application for an electrical sign over Copeland's delivery stable entrance on Jefferson street was referred.

Owners of the billboards were ordered to set them back the distance of their height from the pavement, and to remove billboards from the walls of McPherson's and Wm. Gilbert's drug stores, Fourth street and Broadway.

Repairs to culverts on Sowell and Bridge streets were ordered.

A dedication of property at Eleventh and Jones streets for an alley was referred.

A fence built by Dr. Hellig at Eighth and Jackson streets was ordered removed from an alley.

A request for wharf space from the West Kentucky Coal company was referred.

The board decided that street inspectors employed by the city shall give a bond.

The traction company was ordered to use concrete for filling when it lays brick on Broadway between Fourth and Fifth streets.

The maintenance bond of the Southern Traction company was fixed at $5,000 to hold for five years.

The board decided that the city inspector working on traction company improvements, should be paid by that company.

An extra team was allowed the street department.

No street department tools hereafter will be loaned without the consent of the board of public works.

Defective curbing between Twelfth and Thirtieth streets on Tennessee street was ordered repaired.

Street improvement work on Sowell and Hayes avenues and Jarrett street was accepted officially.

The concrete pavement on Jones street between Ninth and Eleventh streets was accepted.

The traction company was ordered to repair pavements where poles had been removed.

Entire Town to Be Sold.

New York, Dec. 6.—A Worcester, Mass., special to the Tribune says the entire town of Wilkesonville will be sold at public auction today. The town was once one of the most important manufacturing places on the Blackstone river. Now every house, store, mill and water privilege is going under the hammer to suit the bidders.

The town has been in a state of stagnation since 1897. It is on the New York New Haven and Hartford railway. Its history dates back to 1813, when Asa Waters bought a large farm, which he sold in 1822 to David Wilkinson, of Providence, from which the town derives its name. He built the mills and started the town.

Most men are as much afraid of being cowards as they are of being thought so.

If ideals were all realized, regret would soon go out of the world.

Is evidenced by the fact that 38 packets touch here every week. This not counting the towboats.

It looks as if all the river improvement conventions will stir congress to action in the improvement of navigable streams. The moral is to shout loud in this part of the country if you would have Washington hear.

DIPLOMATIC

HENRY WHITE TO BE TRANSFERRED TO PARIS.

Minister Bryan May Go Back to Brazil and Griscom to Rome.

Washington, Dec. 6.—The Hon. Henry White, American ambassador to Rome, will be transferred in the near future from that post to Paris, where he will succeed the Hon. Robert S. McCormick as ambassador. Mr. White will be succeeded at Rome by the Hon. Lloyd O. Griscom, now American ambassador to Brazil.

It is stated that beyond these changes the president has not definitely settled upon the persons who are to be appointed to fill the vacancies caused by the promotions and exchanges. The name of Charles Page Bryan, of Illinois, minister to Portugal, has been mentioned in connection with the post of ambassador to Brazil, which will be vacated by the promotion of Mr. Griscom to Rome.

Mr. Bryan was formerly minister to Portugal and his assignment to Portugal was in the nature of a promotion. Now it happens that as the Brazilian post has since been raised to the rank of an embassy his return to Rio would likewise be a decided promotion.

The vacancy at St. Petersburg which will result from the transfer of Ambassador Meyer to the cabinet, will probably be filled by the promotion of a person now in the diplomatic service with the rank of minister, although the change will not be made until next spring, in order to await the retirement from the cabinet of Secretary Shaw and the transfer to the treasury of Postmaster General Cortelyou, which will afford the necessary place for Mr. Meyer.

POWER OF PRAYER.

Said to Have Been Exemplified at Memphis.

Memphis, Tenn., Sept. 6.—Impelled by what the superstitiously inclined believe to be a supernatural force, O. F. Hughey, a student of Vanderbilt University, Nashville, returned to Memphis, but instead of going to his home went to the Second Presbyterian church, where the Rev. George C. Cates, of Louisville, is conducting the most successful revival in the history of the city. Here he was converted and joined the church. When he walked to the chancel rail his father, W. H. Hughey, a lawyer, joined him, shouting that his prayer had been answered.

The day before young Hughey returned, the father asked the Rev. Mr. Cates to pray for the saving of his son. Young Hughey says he has no idea what induced his determination to return to Memphis.

FOOD LAW KILLS "LAGNAPPE."
Force New Orleans Grocers to Give Up Century-Old Custom.

New Orleans, Dec. 6.—"Lagnappe," the ancient French sales-inducer indulged in by grocers of New Orleans for a century, has succumbed to the pure food law. After January 1, 1907, this trade-bringer will be banished from every store in the city. The change has been brought about by the Retail Grocers' association because candy, which now costs six cents a pound, cannot be had for less than twelve cents, the same being the case with cheap cakes and other articles that heretofore have been thrown in free with every sale.

Theatrical Notes

AT THE KENTUCKY.

Friday Night . . . "My Dixie Girl."
Saturday Matinee and Night . . . "A Woman of Mystery."

My Dixie Girl.

The theatre is a medium of recreation to the greater number of people, and the play that appeals to this majority is reasonably sure of success. "My Dixie Girl," the beautiful comedy drama, which will be the attraction at the Kentucky theatre on Friday night with its clean cut comedy, swift action, clever dialogue and deep heart interest, appeals to all parts of the house. It is an every day play story, telling of exciting incidents in the lives of an old Kentucky family, and is full to overflowing with the atmosphere of love and hospitality that characterizes the inhabitants of the sunny south. It will be presented by a competent company and a superb scenic investiture.

A Word to the Public.

In offering Miss Courtenay Morgan in "A Woman of Mystery" we feel that you will fully appreciate our endeavor to give you the best in theatrical entertainment at the lowest possible living price. Knowing that the play was played by Madam Bernhardt for 480 nights in Paris is proof of its worth. You, or most of you already know Miss Morgan's ability. It only remains for us to state that we have spared neither time or expense in giving this production the most correct and elaborate scenic equipment possible and in engaging nothing but the best artists for the supporting company. We hope that you will encourage us to offer more of this kind of high class attractions by your presence at its performance at the Kentucky on Saturday matinee and night.

Charley Grapewin.

The Washington Post has this to say of Charley Grapewin in "The Awakening of Mr. Pipp," who is to appear at The Kentucky Monday night: In the enlarged version of "Mr. Pipp" Charley Grapewin and Ann Chance have a vehicle which will doubtless carry their names to the top of the list of the season's successful stars. As for these players themselves they have long ago established their right to positions among the best portrayers of comedy and of pathos now before the public. Mr. Pipp is enlarged into a three-act musical play, is entertaining and pathetic as well, in some parts. Mr. Grapewin has provided lots of good humor and funny situations for himself and Miss Chance and indeed all the members have ample opportunity to show their ability. The ending of the second act which shows the interior of Pipp's bedroom "On the morning after" and that sorrowful gentleman in bed is strong and pathetic. Not a word is spoken as Pipp hearing his wife's sobs coming from the corner, throws down a glass of liquor he is about to drink and crawling to the bed he lays his throbbing head on the pillow with a groan. Mrs. Pipp looking down at him, gently covers him up, draws the curtain and departs, thoughtfully leaving some ice water on a chair by the bedside. It is a quick transition from the humorous to the pathetic, but the audience appreciates it and responds with several curtain calls. The musical numbers of the play are delightful and the singing and dancing of the chorus is one of the most pleasing features of the entertainment.

A woman's color comes and goes according to her makeup.

MRS. ASTOR

NO LONGER TO HEAD FOUR HUNDRED IN NEW YORK.

Slowly Declining Mentally She Yields Scepter—No Astor Ball This Season.

New York, Dec. 6.—Mrs. Astor, the greatest and last of the supreme leaders of New York society, never again will sit upon her throne. In a peaceful, pathetic twilight, like the passing of a soft, gray curtain, are the images of lovely women and gallant men—some of whom are quick, but more dead—by whom in fancy she sees herself surrounded.

The scepter and the crown are still hers. They will remain with her to the end, but the fingers that grasp the scepter are sadly, tremulously, irresolute. The head is too tired to bear the burden of the crown.

There will be no Astor ball this season. There cannot be, for Mrs. Astor will not be able to entertain. Society significantly and regretfully remarked her absence the opening night of the opera at the Metropolitan. In her place sat a vice-regent, her daughter, Mrs. Orme Wilson. So the whispers ran from box to box around the opera house that what had been feared by her friends and discreetly hinted at in boudoirs and over teasups was true.

Now, from persons who have the right to know, comes an admission that Mrs. Astor must finally and for all time relinquish her social activities. The erect, stately figure, slight, but impressive, never again will stand in her magnificent drawing-room wearing her velvet robes and matchless jewels regally to greet the courtesying dames and the bowing men who were honored by receiving the cachet of membership in America's most exclusive society circle—a card to Mrs. Astor's ball.

MORALITY FOR WALL STREET.

President of Cornell Predicts Good for Financial Center.

Ithaca, N. Y., Dec. 5.—That the time is coming when truth, honor and morality will be just as much a part of Wall street as the country village, was the prediction made by President Jacob G. Schurman, of Cornell University, in an address to the students yesterday. In his speech President Schurman spoke against the tariff, which he said should be further regulated by the government. He also made the startling statement that he believed the law would in time fix prices of commodities controlled by monopolies and in all cases where competition was stifled. In speaking of socialism he said that its fatal defect is that it puts upon the shoulders of the government what the government is totally incapable of doing.

HARRISMAN SYSTEM.

Investigation to Be the Subject of a Conference by Commission.

Washington, Dec. 6.—The proposed investigation of what is known as the Harrisman system of railroads will be the subject of a conference by the interstate commerce commission. The commission has for some time had the matter of an investigation under advisement because of communications which have reached it alleging that the effect of the alleged combination is to suppress competition. The active work of the inquiry will be delegated to some responsible person in whom the commission has full confidence and upon whose report a declaration will be reached as to what, if any further steps shall be taken.

Removal Sale at Pollock's Store

640 BROADWAY

COMMENCING FRIDAY, DECEMBER 7th, we open our Removal Sale, for by January 1st we must be out of our present quarters in the Empire building, 640 Broadway. Every dollar's worth of our fine Diamonds, Watches and Jewelry must be sacrificed, for we wish to move as little stock as possible. Remember, we are the only manufacturing jewelers in Paducah, make a large part of our own jewelry and are thus enabled to make you prices which no other jeweler in the city can hope to match. Christmas is nearly here and it will pay you well to buy your gifts from the maker and save the profits of both wholesaler and retailer. Our stock is large, our goods are as good as the best, but are cheaper than the rest. It is true we are a little bit outside the business district, but the chance to save half on your Christmas Jewelry should be inducement enough to bring you an extra block or so to our store. Its in the Empire Flat building.

C. C. McCHORD NOT AFTER MURCHAND'S JOB.

Has Never Heard of Humor and Will Be a Candidate for Railroad Commissioner.

Washington, Dec. 6.—When Mr. C. C. McChord's attention was called to the report that he would be appointed to succeed General Counsel Murchand, of the interstate commerce commission, he said:

"I have never heard of any such rumor; have never thought of or expected any such appointment, and do not want it as I shall be a candidate for railroad commissioner in Kentucky next year."

TO DISMISS OFFICERS.

President Asks for That Power and Cites Briggs.

Washington, Dec. 6.—The president today sent a special message to congress urging legislation giving the president authority upon his own initiative and responsibility to dismiss any officer whom he thinks unworthy to remain in the service. The law at present provides that in time of peace no officer shall be dismissed except in pursuance of a court-martial or in mitigation thereof. This provision the president wants repealed.

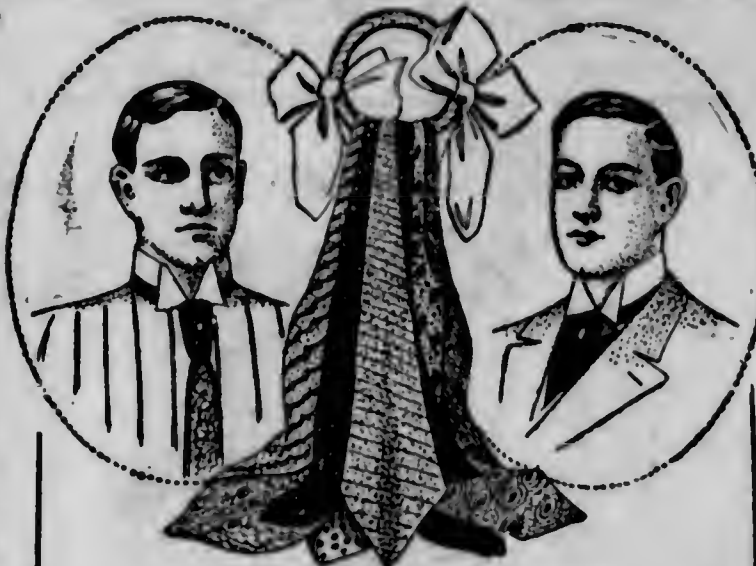

Illustrating the necessity for the legislation desired, the president cites the case of a naval officer, whose name is not given, but who was accused of "indecent and disgusting behavior." He was convicted, but the court, to his surprise, the president says, did not sentence him to dismissal.
